MADE HIM A CRIMINAL

AN OPERATION THAT HAD AN UNFOR-TUNATE EFFECT.

A Boy's Bump of Acquisitiveness Grew Abnormally After He Was Trephined—But the Surgeon Stood All the Blame and Corrected the Error.

"Do you think criminality is a disease?" asked the drummer of the hotel clerk.

"Course not," said the clerk. "It is an acquired habit, and there wouldn't be any criminals if children were trained right."

"That's what you think, but sit down there where you will be comfortable, and I'll tell you something."

It was after midnight, and as the clerk hadn't anything else to do he accepted the invitation and sat down.

"Not a great while ago," went on the drummer, "I was in an eastern city, and it happened that I had a package of samples stolen by a boy on the street.

I caught him in the act, and a policeman being on the spot, for a wonder, I turned the thief over to him and agreed to appear against the boy, just to teach him a lesson. The next morning I was in the police court on time, and there I was met by a physician, who told me something which led me to leave the case to him. When the boy was called, the physician appeared with him and desired to make a statement to the court.

It was granted, and he said:

"May it please the court, I want to assume responsibility for this offense and for a number of others of a similar character, which I understand the accused has committed within the past year.

"Your honor," he said, "until something more than a year ago this boy was as correct a boy as any I ever knew. Of good parentage and excellent training, there is no reason why he should not have been so. Two years ago he sustained a severe accident by being thrown from a bicycle, in which his skull was fractured directly on that spot which phrenologists have designated as the bump of acquisitiveness. I was called in to treat the case, and upon examination discovered that the only thing to be done was to remove a part of the skull and trephine the fracture. This I did, exposing a considerable area of the brain. The trephining, however, was quite successful, and I had the pleasure in a few weeks of seeing my patient once more on his feet, and to all intents and purposes as well as ever, or very likely to be soon. At this time, and un-

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

That was a year ago. Today I met the physician on the street here, and the first thing I asked him about was the boy. He smiled all over and told me that ever since the operation the boy had been steadily improving, and for two months past he had stolen nothing, although the temptation was constantly put in his way by his orders.

"I think," he said as we parted,

"that the boy is entirely cured, and hereafter when I have any trephining to do

I shall keep an eye on the bumps and not make a patient either better or worse than nature intended." —Detroit Free

London Abuses.

At a recent meeting in England of the Liberal Federation of Women such startling things were told by women who had been investigating the need of municipal reform that their speeches were constantly interrupted by cries of shame upon those responsible for such a condition of things. Lady Henry Somerset, in the course of a speech demanding the appointment of police matrons, said that she had asked permission to pass a night in a police station, but had been refused on the ground that the sights and sounds there were unfit for her to see and hear. Miss Belgarde said that she knew of a woman being brought into a station in a state of absolute nudity, and that the inspector in charge was the first one to think of wrapping her in his coat. Equal need of women inspectors was demonstrated. —Ex-

Agitation in England.

The wave of agitation about woman suffrage seems to be flooding England as well as the United States. Large conventions are being held. At one in Chelsea, presided over by Lady Carlisle, the following resolution was passed: "That this meeting is of opinion that, as the registration bill introduced by the government alters the qualification for the parliamentary franchise in respect of rating and residence, it should also alter the qualification in respect of sex, and this meeting rejoices to learn that an effort will be made to amend the bill by including provisions for the enfranchisement of women."
